The organist of the church gave a musical program during the seating of the guests, and heralded the bride with the wedding march from "Lohengrin." She was escorted by her father, and

TO BE MARRIED NEXT THURSDAY.

MISS FRIDA TILLMAN, Daughter of Commander and Mrs. Tillman, and bride-to-be of Mr. Lawrence S. Fraser of Nashville, Tenn.

was preceded by eight bridesmaids, Miss Fern Prince, Miss Agnes Pendock, Miss E. Olivia Johnson, Miss Ethel Johnson, Miss Mabel Barbour, Miss Louise Moore, Miss Eunice May Taylor of Goldsboro, N. C., and Miss Willie Kewkirk.

Miss Asha Louise Wells was the maid of honor and Mrs. Swift Galloway, Boykin and Mrs. Omar Bailey Buchanan were matrons of honor for their sister.

The ushers, Mr. George Moore, Mr. John Bowman, Mr. Fred Boorman, Mr. Raymond Beecher, Mr. Timothy Newkirk, Mr. Corwin Newkirk, Mr. W. N. Carroll and Mr. Thornley Seabrook, led the way to the chancel, where the bridegroom, with his brother, Mr. Enock J. Vann, awaited them.

The bride's gown was of white crepe meteor trimmed with chantilly lace. It had a long court train, cut square at the end. She wore a tulle veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of yellow crepe de chine and lace, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The gowns worn by the matrons of honor were of white crepe meteor and their bouquets were of yellow chrysanthemums, while the bridesmaids made picturesque group in their gowns of yellow chiffon over white charmeuse.

Lace and fur formed the trimming, and they carried clusters of yellow chrysanthemums.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Omar Bailey Buchanan, which was prettily decorated for the occasion.

Mrs. Wells, mother of the bride, assisted in receiving, wearing a gown of black chantilly lace, and Mrs. Vann, mother of the bridegroom, wore black lace over black satin. Mrs. R. O. E. Davis presided at the table in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Vann left late in the evening for New York. Later they will visit relatives in North Carolina, Georgia and Florida, en route to New Orleans, from which point they will sail for Panama, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Vann traveled in a smart suit of blue serge, with a small black hat.

A pretty wedding took place at noon yesterday, when Miss M. Roselle Wiltberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Wiltberger, became the bride of Mr. John B. Switzer. The ceremony was performed at St. Paul's Church, Rock creek, by Rev. Charles E. Buck. The bride was given away by her father and wore a becoming suit of dark blue velvet and broadcloth, with a blue velvet hat, trimmed with plumes, to match. Her bouquet was of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Lena Fowler, her only attendant, wore a gown of blue crepe de chine. Her black picture hat was adorned with yellow plumes and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Alfred Johnson was best man. Mrs. Wiltberger, the bride's mother, wore a handsome black satin gown.

BRIDAL FINERY.

At the marriage last week in New York of Miss Catherine Livingston Hamersley and Mr. Samuel Neilson Hinckley, the bride, who is one of the notable heiresses of the metropolis, wore a soft white satin gown, having a tunic of two deep flounces of old rose point, and the low cut-corseage was trimmed with point lace, the medallion collar being also of point lace. The long, square satin train was bordered with point lace, of all which was worn by her mother. She also wore her brother's wedding veil of tulle and orange blossoms, yellowed by time, that fell in a long trail at the right of her coiffure. The bride herself designed the gown. She carried lilies of the valley and white orchids, and wore a diamond ornament, the gift of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor's gown had a skirt of geranium colored satin, and her hat was wreathed with purple geraniums. All the attendants carried large flat tulle muffs, banded with fur and having clusters of geraniums caught at one side.

The bridesmaids' gowns were also designed by the bride and were of soft brown satin with short skirts, over which fell double tunics of brown tulle. The lower tunic was edged with brown fur. The tulle sleeves came below the elbows and were finished scalloped edge double frills. The girdles were of geranium colored satin. Their large brown hats had velvet crowns and tulle brims and were wreathed with shaded red geraniums.

At another New York wedding last week, that of Miss Agnes Griewald and Mr. Moses Taylor Pyne, Jr., the bride's white satin dress had a slightly gathered skirt, the corsage arranged en surplice with a deep V in the front and draped with point lace, lace sleeves, and a long point lace train, an heirloom, and a full tulle veil which fell from a full, flat ruche of tulle that crossed the bridegroom, and carried a round bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

Her maid of honor wore mauve satin under a tulle tunic of the same shade and a hat of amethyst velvet. Her bouquet was of pink and white orchids.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of mauve charmeuse, the bodices having kimono sleeves ending at the elbows in deep frills of tulle of the same shade. The deep V necks were also finished with standing frills of the tulle and the skirts were of wide straight bands of amethyst velvet. The mauve tulle tunics, edged with silver ribbon, were short in the front and ran down to the bottom of the satin skirts in godet folds.

Their amethyst velvet hats, rolled up at the left, were set well over the right ear, with a sudden lift at the back against which was caught a mauve orchid, and two mauve orchids were placed flat on each crown. Each carried a large round bouquet of mauve and purple orchids set in a deep frill of ferns.

and her sister, Mrs. Charles Buck, wore black crepe de chine.

Mr. and Mrs. Switzer left immediately after the ceremony for their wedding trip. They will be at home after November 10 at the Rochester Apartment. Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Caspar of New York and Mr. David of Indiana, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom.
